Privacy

SCI collects no information from visitors to this site unless provided by the visitor for the purposes of gaining further information regarding products and services offered by SCI. Except as otherwise expressly set forth below, no information provided by any visitor is used for any other purposes and no information is shared with any outside sources. SCI receives and stores information you enter on our web site or give to SCI in any other way. You can choose not to provide certain information, but then you might not be able to take advantage of many features SCI offers. When communicating with SCI, SCI may ask you for your name, e-mail address, mailing address, daytime phone number, credit card information or other information. You may, however, visit this site anonymously.

SCI receives and stores certain types of information whenever you interact with us. Like many web sites, SCI uses “cookies,” which allows us to obtain certain types of information when your Web browser accesses this Site. Cookies are small files stored by your browser in your computer when you visit our Site. SCI mostly uses “session cookies” that are automatically deleted after each visit. Other sites can’t read cookies from our Site. Most browsers will accept cookies until you change browser settings to refuse them. If SCI collects personally identifying information, you may later access and modify it, but you may not remove it from our system yourself. You may choose simply not to provide personal contact information by opting-out at the point of collection. SCI may disclose your information if necessary to protect our legal rights or if the information relates to actual or threatened harmful conduct. Law may require disclosure or if SCI receives legal process.

SCI generally keeps user data on our servers or in our archives for as long as SCI reasonably needs it. SCI may alter this practice according to changing requirements. For example, SCI may delete some data if needed to free up storage space. SCI may keep other data for longer periods if the law requires it. Once data is removed from the system and archived, it may not be feasible to accommodate specific requests. In those cases, our general data retention policy applies.

SCI uses the personal identifying information described above:

To personalize the site experience and to allow SCI to deliver the type of content and product offerings in which visitors are most interested.

To learn about site visitors and customers and to tailor specific features, promotions, or other notifications to them.

To allow SCI to better service you in responding to your customer service requests.

To quickly process your transactions.

SCI does not sell, trade, or otherwise transfer to outside parties your personal information unless SCI provides you with advance notice, except as described below. The term “outside parties” does not include website hosting partners and other parties who assist us in operating our website, conducting SCI business, or servicing you, so long as those parties agree to keep this information confidential. Non-personally identifiable visitor information, in aggregate form, may be provided to other parties for marketing, advertising, or other uses.
